An Important Matter.

Druggists everywhere report that the sales of the Restorative Nervine—a nerve food and medicine—are astonishing; exceeding anything they ever had, while it gives universal satisfaction in headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, sexual debility, backache, poor memory, fits, dizziness, etc. L. Burton & Co., Troy, N. Y.; Ambury & Murphy, of Little Creek, Mich.; C. B. Woodworth & Co., of Fort Wayne, Ind., and hundreds of others state that they never handled any medicine, which sold so rapidly or gave such satisfaction. Trial bottles of this great medicine and book on Nervous Diseases, free at J. W. Gayle's, who guarantees and recommends it.

Polsgrove.

Mr. Hol. Pool is also on the sick list, but is better and able to work some at his trade.

There is talk of a called meeting of the members of Mt. Carmel Church, for the purpose of raising funds for repairs, which is improving very badly. Good people, attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Combs have been visiting friends and relatives, since the 4th, at Monterey.

Mr. Eldie Hard spent the 4th in Frankfort with his best girl.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hutcherson spent the 4th at Monterey.

Mr. Walter F. Rupe, the painter, has returned from a year's stay in Indianapolis, Ind., and is now engaged painting and papering Mr. Will. Long's house. Those needing painting done will be wise to get Walter to do their work.

Master Ranch Pulliam is becoming a champion bang picker.

The glorious 4th will long be remembered by those who attended the Greenwell picnic, at the Greenwell grounds, given by Mr. John Riley. Every thing was lovely until about 4 o'clock, when a tremendous fight took place. Mr. Bub Jones was severely cut across the forehead with a rock, nearly four inches long. Several others received slight bruises, but not worth mentioning. Their conduct was a disgrace to the county. Whisky the cause.

Failures in Life.

People fail in many ways. In business, in morality, in religion, in happiness, and in health. A weak heart is often an unsuspected cause in failure in life. If the blood does not circulate properly in the lungs, there is shortness of breath, asthma, etc.; in the brain, dizziness, headache, etc.; in the stomach, wind, pain, indigestion, faint spells, etc.; in the liver, torpidity, constipation, etc. Pain in the left side, shoulder and stomach is caused by heart strain. For all these maladies Dr. Miles' New Cure for the heart and lungs is the best remedy. Soid, guaranteed and recommended by J. W. Gayle, Frankfort, Ky. Treasise free.

Jett.

Mrs. B. W. Thompson is quite sick. Mr. Vanderventer lost an infant child last week.

The Misses Long, of Frankfort, visited Miss Maggie O'Donnell last week.

Mrs. Riggan, of Louisville, who has been visiting Mrs. B. W. Thompson, left Monday afternoon for the sea shore.

L. A. Trumbo, Esq., will make a business trip to Louisville during this week. It is believed that the freetrader will survive his absence.

Our town celebrated the glorious fourth with a game of ball, and one or two bloody noses. The colored citizens of Ducker, celebrated with feasting and dancing.

We have been threatened with a severe drouth, but Tuesday brought us a timely shower, and Hayseed is once more happy.

Wheat is not so good as at first expected, though the crop is above an average yield. Some crops have been sold at eighty cents per bushel.

that the new Constitution is not a party issue, the Courier-Journal sees fit to furl her banners, and will now, no doubt, find time to discuss political questions. Small sheets should take warning.

Italian peddlers some times visit this section and make it a point to insult ladies who refuse to purchase their spurious wares, when ever there are no gentlemen about. There is a small dose of New Orleans phisic ready, which will be lavishly administered if opportunity presents itself.

We have just received, from a sister in Japan, what is said to be a good likeness of the Mikado, wife and child. Judging from the picture we are not at all surprised that he should be so zealous in an effort to introduce Western civilization into his kingdom. Both the Mikado and the Prince have very intelligent countenances, while the Empress has a sleepy, dreamy appearance.

BULLDOFUS.

The Secret of His Wealth.

A millionaire said "the secret of my wealth" is in the word, S-A-V-E; and the secret of my health is in the word, S-A-G-E. By this last he meant Dr. Sage, whose Catarrh Remedy cured him of one of the worst cases of Catarrh, and thereby saved him from much suffering and premature death, enabling him to make his millions, and enjoy life. The cure made by this medicine are simply wonderful.

The New Business College.

There is no doubt that it would be much better for every man to secure a classical education, but we find only a few that have either the time or means to attend a first class college long enough to secure the same, though it is in the reach of all to attend the Capital City Business College and thus prepare for the work that must be done to make life a success. The man that starts out in the world without a profession or a business education must depend entirely upon his physical labor, though he may have all the requirements of a fine business man, save education.

The C. C. B. C. is a home institution to be depended upon. Satisfaction is guaranteed, and one desiring a business education can do no better than attend this school, for it will be conducted by specialists in each department. See advertisement.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c., 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. W. GAYLE.

Progressing Slowly.

The trial of the cases of the Commonwealth vs. The Bondsman of Jas. W. Tate, State Treasurer, for the term from January 1, 1882 to January 1, 1884, is progressing very slowly. Judge Montfort received a letter Sunday notifying him that his only sister was lying at the point of death at her home in Indiana, and the court was adjourned over from Monday until Wednesday in order to give him a chance to visit her. Wednesday the hearing of evidence was resumed and was closed yesterday. Every move was closely watched by the attorneys on both sides, and whole days consumed in arguing the question as to whether or not a witness should be allowed to answer a certain question. The argument was begun yesterday.

Changes of Climate

Mill more people than is generally known, particularly in this case in instances where the condition is delicate, and among our immigrant population seeking new homes in those portions of the West, and where malarial and typhoid fevers prevail at certain seasons of the year. The best preparation for a change of climate, or of climate and water which change necessitates, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which not only fortifies the system against malarial, a variable temperature, damp, and the debilitating effects of tropical climates, but also cures the most stubborn cases of dyspepsia, liver complaint, biliousness, and all the ailments incident to the system. It is a most valuable remedy for all who visit to the region, a n. or the equator, mariners and tourists. Whether used as a safeguard by sea voyagers, travelers by land, natives, or agriculturists in newly populated districts, this fine specific has elicited the most favorable testimony.

Death of Mrs. Cassell.

Mrs. Matilda Cassell, mother of Mr. John H. Cassell, of the firm of Hudson, Humphries & Cassell, died Thursday evening at her residence on Conway street, after an illness of only twenty-four hours, with heart disease. She had been in her usual good health until Wednesday when she was taken ill, but until late Thursday afternoon her condition was not considered serious, and her death was a great shock to her family and friends. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from the house, and was conducted by Rev. W. G. Neville, of the Southern Presbyterian Church.

A Nice Colt.

Col. Hiram Berry is the owner of one of the finest young trotters in this section. He is by Norvel, 2:17, out of Meter, dam of Old Croc and other good ones. He is a dark bay, almost the image of his sire, and just a year old. Col. Berry calls him John G. Carlisle, in honor of the Senator from Kentucky. The colt has never been trained but shows a good gait to the halter.

Oh, What a Cough.

Will you heed the warning; the signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease Consumption? Ask yourself if you can afford, for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves cough and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. W. GAYLE.

"For several years I have recommended your 'Castoria,' and shall always continue to do so as it has invariably produced beneficial results." EDWIN F. PARKER, M. D., "The Winthrop," 13th Street and 7th Ave., New York City.

Judge Lindsay's Opinion.

Judge Wm. Lindsay, of this city, was interviewed by a reporter for the Louisville Post recently and gave the following as his opinion of the new Constitution:

"What, in your opinion, are the features which commend it?" was asked of the Judge.

"Well, let me say, to begin with, that I was opposed to the calling of a Constitutional Convention. I saw in the drift of affairs, and the control of capital and those people who considered their interests inimicable to aggregated wealth, and I feared that one or the other would get control of the body and would abuse its power in shaping the organic law. The convention, as is well known, was pervaded by a strong anti-corporation sentiment, but in looking over its work I was very agreeably surprised at the moderate use that was made of its power. What was done was in the direction of preventing corporations from abusing their powers."

"Now to the bill of particulars: In the first is the open clause by which the constitution may be amended as experience points out the necessity. This clause is open, elastic, and practicable and right enough to give stability to the organic law. You don't want your constitution as susceptible to change as your state constitution."

"Then there is the Judicial department. The Appellate branch of it is not what I would like to have seen, but it is an improvement on the present system and is easy to amend in case it doesn't work satisfactorily. It would be more difficult to change the Circuit Court arrangement with its thirty or more judges, but it seems to be what is generally wanted. To be of what an Appellate Court system out to be, that would be too long to explain, and besides would lead away from the subject of the new constitution which we have under consideration."

"Then there are the changes in the Legislative department. While I think the limitations of the system, so far as local matters are concerned, may go farther than was desirable, yet the limitations on special legislation are indispensable to making the General Assembly a real legislative body, and if it turns out that the constitution goes too far in these respects, no great harm can come in the next eight or ten years if we have no such of this character of legislation during that time."

"I think that the general system of taxation proposed by the new instrument is likely to result in a more uniform and equal apportionment of taxation than we have heretofore had. And while it may be doubtful whether it may be desirable to have permitted localities to assist in the building of railroads in which they have a special interest, it is better to abolish that power than to be subject to the abuses that have grown up under the existing constitution."

"Well, there is the secret ballot. It is rather against my instincts and judgment, but it has operated well in other States, and it was absolutely necessary to do something in the interest of honest elections. I think there can be no doubt that the large majority of the people are in favor of giving it a trial."

"I think that most of the exceptions that have been taken to the new constitution are rather capricious than substantial; and four or five provisions that appear to be really objectionable can be cured through the open clauses as rapidly as their evil results, if any there should be, are developed. And, finally, I think it is for all of the people to settle this question of constitutional reform by the adoption of the proposed document, without the least, is a fairly good instrument and very much better suited to the present condition of affairs than our existing organic law."

"I see nothing in the proposed constitution that is likely to interfere with legitimate progress or to discourage the investment of capital in Kentucky. Interest. The truth is, we've been discounting the future during the last four or five years to a degree that is not entirely healthy, and with or without constitutional changes we'll have to check speculation until we can realize some of the anticipations we've been going in debt for as though we already had the future in hand."

Mr. J. T. Mook, of Danville, says, "I can cheerfully recommend Quinn's Ointment to all Horsemen as the very best remedy in use, whether it be without it." For Cures, Splints, Spavins, Windcups or any enlargement give it a trial.

Switzer.

Thinking that perhaps a few items would be of interest to some of our readers, also having a desire to once more bring our little village into notice is our only apology for the following.

The public school of this place will begin next Monday, July 15th. Mr. Wallace Porter, of Owen county, teacher. Send your children to school regularly, don't send them two days of a week and then anathematize the teacher because, forsooth, he don't learn my boy nothing.

Miss Annie Thomason, who has been quite sick this past week, is now convalescent.

Mr. Taylor Carter was badly bitten by a dog, on Friday, supposed to be rabid. When the madstone was applied, however, it failed to adhere and we are very hopeful that all will be well.

There will be a lecture at North Fork Church, Wednesday, July 15th, by Rev. E. S. Alderman on a popular subject, for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society. Admission 25 cents.

Educational.

There were sixteen applicants, white, examined last Friday by the County Board of Examiners with the following results: Number of 1st class certificates issued, 2; number of 2d class, 6; failed, 2.

We are now preparing the program for the commencement exercises on the 31st inst., and will have it ready for the next issue of this paper. The public will be cordially welcomed to our doubt, delightfully entertained on that occasion.

We regret to hear of the death of our young friend, Katie. He was one for whom we had the highest regards. As a friend he was true as steel; as a teacher, honest, faithful and earnest; as a young man an example that all young men could follow and profit by it.

We shall miss him at our annual reunion, and we drop the sympathetic tear with the bereaved ones let us hope that our loss is his eternal gain.

It isn't the usual way

—it's just the reverse—to pay a patient when you can't cure him. Nevertheless, that's what's done by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. They promise to pay you $500 if they can't cure your catarrh, no matter how bad the case. It isn't more talk—it's business. You can satisfy yourself of it, if you're interested. And you ought to be, if you have catarrh. It's faith in their medicine that's behind the offer. It has cured thousands of the worst cases, where everything else failed. You can be cured, too. If you can't, you get the money. They're willing to take the risk—you ought to be glad to take the medicine.

It's the cheapest medicine you can buy, because it's guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

You only pay for the good you get. Can you ask more?

That's the peculiar plan all Dr. Pierce's medicines are sold on.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, JULY 11, 1891.

First of the Season.

Mr. Thomas Tanner had ripe tomatoes from his garden for supper Monday evening.

Keep Out of the Grass.

The chigoes are more plentiful this year than usual and the grass is full of them in every direction.

Wants Damages.

George Meyers has sold the Allen-Bradley Company for $25,000 for injuries received at their distillery in Louisville.

On the 17th.

Dr. W. I. Kelly, of Cincinnati, will visit this city on Friday next, the 17th inst. As usual, he can be found at the Capital.

As a general liniment for sprains and bruises or for rheumatism, lame back, deep seated or muscular pains, Chamberlain's Pain Balm is unrivalled. For sale by J. W. Gayle, 43-1m.

Elected Officers.

At the regular election of Frankfort Typographical Union, held on Tuesday evening, the following were chosen for the ensuing six months:

- R. Lee Hulet, ROUNDABOUT office, President.
- John Hanley, Capital office, Vice President.
- Frank H. Morse, ROUNDABOUT office, Secretary-Treasurer.
- J. Des. Connor, ROUNDABOUT office, Sergeant-at-Arms.

High Bridge Camp Meeting.

Will begin this year July 10th and continue until the 20th. The Kentucky Midland will make rates from Frankfort at $2.05, including admission. K. M. train No. 1 connects with daily special from Georgetown and train No. 4 will also connect with the special upon its return from High Bridge, giving all opportunity to spend the day at this famous meeting.

Ward-Mangan.

Mr. William A. Ward and Miss Katie Mangan, of this city, went to Louisville Monday afternoon, where they were married by Rev. C. C. Kelly, D. D., of the Broadway Methodist Church. The bride is the second daughter of Mayor Lewis Mangan, while the groom is a traveling man in the employ of a St. Louis house. While there was opposition upon the part of the bride's father, the affair cannot be called an elopement, as the young people were both of age.

During the epidemic of flux in this county last summer, I had hard work to keep a supply of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy on hand. People often came ten or twelve miles in the night to get a bottle of the Remedy. I have been selling patent medicines for the last ten years and find that it has given better satisfaction in cases of cholera and flux than any other medicine I have ever handled.—J. H. Benham, Druggist, Golconda, Pope Co., Ill. Over five hundred bottles of this Remedy were used in this county during the epidemic referred to. It was a perfect success and the only remedy that did cure the worst cases. Dozens of persons there will testify that it saved their lives. In four other epidemics of bowel complaint this remedy has been equally successful. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. Gayle, 43-1m.

Close To-day.

The Shelby County Trotting Association holds its annual meeting July 15th, 16th and 17th.

Purses, 2:40, 2:55, 3:30 (pacing) and 2:45, trotting classes, close July 11. Purses divided as follows: 50 per cent., 25 per cent., 15 per cent. and 10 per cent., 5 per cent. to nominate, 5 per cent. to start.

Music furnished by the Young Ladies Cornet Band. Send entries to J. E. Middleton, Sec'y and Treasurer. 43-1t.

CAN'T SLEEP NIGHTS

Is the complaint of thousands suffering from Asthma, Consumption, Coughs, etc. Did you ever try Dr. Ackner's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all Lung Troubles. Sold on a positive guarantee at 25c. and 60c.

'HAPPY JACK' COMES AGAIN.

And Talks Freely About the New Constitution.

Some Homely but Concise Reasons for Its Adoption.

STANFORD, KY., June 20, 1891.

To the Editor of The Central Record:—My grammar may not be good, nor my spelling, but my reasons for favoring the new Constitution seem as good as the reasons of those who oppose it, and appear as well taken, and while I do not expect to get the last word, or even try, I want you to listen to me some more, and then I'll hush.

They say it "stops progress." Well, it does stop voting subsidies to railroads—it does stop levying taxes on precincts and counties to help such as Mr. Gould and Mr. Huntington (who already have $100,000,000 apiece, got from others), because the people have no better sense than to think those gentlemen have "progressed" enough at the expense of other folks, and while we don't want anything those "magnates" have, we do want any such "progress" around anything we can. Boyle county paid four hundred thousand dollars first and last for a R. R. that never was, and never will be built. Taylor county, and Green and Muhlenburg, and the little precinct of Eminence have been broken up by them, and the rest of us don't want any such "progress" around anybody else anywhere in Kentucky; and when this fight is over and the smoke goes away you will find the new Constitution "all sitting," and those railroad "magnates" stretched out as straight as a dead man and—they may be dead—who cares if they are, if we have to keep them alive. But if they come with their own money to build their own road, why, "pitch in Lemons" or what ever your name is. That's how they do in Georgia. No State aid there and no "stopping progress;" and an old man named Bob Tombs, didn't have a bit better sense than to be against State aid. Wonder if he would have any sense in Kentucky.

They say, though, that railroad help us. So they will, but we will help them the most, and if you don't believe it, try us Mr. Gould and Mr. Huntington; but this thing of subsidies are done for in this country for all time to come, and don't you forget it. We are not going to let you go up here into our backwoods, counties of Harlan, Leslie and Letcher, and fool them like you did Boyle when she was in the backwoods, so don't ask us to help you "progress." Look at us so help you "progress." Look at Lincoln, 100 miles from the railroad. L. & N., Cincinnati Southern and Kentucky Central, all three, and glad to get here and not a dollar of tax. Have the things R. R. men want and they will come after you for them without you hankering after them.

Just let our Constitutional Convention go back and inject "State aid to railroads" into the new Constitution and the curses of its opponents will be changed into the sweetest songs ever sung, and they will invoke the spirits of old Mr. Murray and Mr. Kirkham, and Mr. Butler, to come and write out an endorsement of our new Constitution, recommending it to Porter Thompson and Frank McClary, as a masterpiece of good grammar and elegant diction, and insist that it be used by them as a text school book. And right here, while speaking of Porter Thompson and Frank McClary, is a good time to mention the six hundred thousand ($600,000) dollars the new Constitution gives the school children. Think about it. That will build ten school-houses in every county in Kentucky worth over $600 a piece, and don't you know the little backwoods boys and girls need them worse than they need ten railroads? Let us have the school-houses for the children and let the railroads take care of themselves, which they can and will do. Hurrah for the railroads. They are going to quit begging.

Then I see where some gentleman with a prophetic eye has seen a train with five hundred excursionist come into Stanford, and a fellow who had a judgment for a hundred dollars against it for work or damages, captured the whole lay-out amid the wailings of the pretty girls and gals and boys who were on their way to the Richmond Fair; while a freight train met with a similar delay between here and Junction City, to the utter discomfiture of Dave Prentiss and Jim Lynn, who were shipping lambs to Cincinnati! Well, boys, if the railroads owe you and want pay pitch in and get your money when you want; they are no better than other people. But those trains spoken of above will never be delayed again.

I was hunting prairie chickens out in Audrian county, Missouri, near the placid stream of "Good Water;" was caught in a rain and thunder storm; took my gun and went to my shack; it was nicely fixed, when lightning struck the shack. I moved to a little higher—hadn't been there a minute and the lightning struck the chimney. I stepped off composedly to a bushy topped walnut, and when will sheltered beneath its foliage the lightning struck the walnut. Thought if "You surely mean me," I walked out, braced myself and took two or three as hard jolts of lightning-bolts as is common for the same individual to stand on the same day, and it tore all my clothes off and split my boots from top to bottom. I thought I was ruined. I met my friend Jackson next day and told him of the occurrence. He laughed at me "kinder" cute; "Jack, don't you quit hunting chickens—that will never happen again!"—and it never has. That was nearly forty years ago.

Now I don't want that fellow who told about seeing those trains captured to call me a liar when he reads of my chicken hunt; for if he does I shall say: "You are another."

But you must excuse me for speaking again about that tax on "poor people's" things. That ingathering at Lexington told us that it only gave the "poor folks" two hundred and fifty dollars' worth of "things about the house" without tax, and then put a tax on ninety million dollars' worth of other "poor people's" things. I asked Mrs. Rout how she was going to stand it. "Lord bless your sweet life, boss, I is so rejoiced to de very bottom of my heart to hear dat de 'poor folks' got so much! Two hundred and fifty dollars' 'zemption, and a tax on ninety million, besides! Who ever heard ob poor folks having so much befo! God knows I'd radder see it den to hear tell ob it! I'd trow way dat old rag carpet dat Miss Lucy Sims gib me after she trowed it away; burn up the windin' blades and loom, and—well, I'd gib my little wheel to Miss Lucy to set in the front parlor for a 'zemberment. I love she called it. Ninety million dollars for poor folks in "things bout de house"—I say ninety millions; Boss, you know dat dat poor folks' money is a long way; don't tell me any more such stuff. You know dat not de truth." Well, I never would have said anything to Mrs. Rout about it, but Col. Stedden Johnston presided at Lexington, and he was good to me during the war. He came to me in a pinch, and every time he laid eyes on me he asked me what else he could do for that wounded brother.

I like you, Col., my heart is getting bigger and my eyes are getting full of water now, when I think of your kindness to me, but to save my life I can't get the "poor folks" to think that there is not some fish on a snag and that "household" story—no do I think you want them to believe it. You didn't need to want to fool folks. A neighbor told me about a snake he saw thirty yards long and as big as a stove-pipe. Excuse me for speaking twice about those "household effects." When I am caught on a jury and Bob Hardin speaks, he always tells us his good points several times, and Bob is a good lawyer, I tell you. I like him and he likes me, and I am going to be as much like him as I can be.

Those fellows at Lexington said, too, that it took $114,000 taxes ob banks; well, if they are taxed that much more than other people that is right; but I expect there are some more snakes and fish in that story! But to make a long story short our old State House will be run on a much cheaper schedule, even if we do have some little ornaments about it that we don't need. I remember when a young man, I went to see my best girl in Lancaster one cold night, and in the back part of the parlor at the right hand end of the piano a little boy made out of a rock without a stitch of clothes on him was kneeling down saying his prayers. "Liza Jane, hadn't we better put some cover on him?" "Cover him—No! He will quit praying and his are the only prayers in our family." You see, we can't always tell how many good lessons a few beautiful ornaments about a house will teach good people who are willing to learn.

You are getting tired and I will hush. The election is coming on and we don't want any Democrat to sulk or pout or scratch his ticket, because—that fellow done something to me." Go on and vote in the morning early.

Always Yours,

"HAPPY JACK."

Mr. John Carpenter, of Goodland, Ind., says: "I tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, for diarrhea and severe cramps, and pains in the stomach and bowels with the best results. In the worst cases I never had to give more than the third dose to effect a cure. In most cases one dose will do. Besides its other good qualities it is pleasant to take." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. Gayle, 43-1m.

The New Directory.

Mr. John B. Dryden is meeting with splendid success in his canvass for the new city directory, as our merchants have responded liberally in the way of advertisements. He will in a few days begin taking the names and residences of our citizens and when the list is complete the book will be gotten out speedily.

Let the World Know You are in It.

It seems almost a crime for a man "hide his light under a bushel."

If he has something new, that will benefit the human race, he should make it known. Old-fogy physicians tread the beaten path of their grandfathers, denounce advertised remedies, and never learn anything new. Medical science knows no parallel to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, compounded by a physician of skill and long experience, especially for the maladies which afflict women. It effects a permanent cure of those agonizing disorders which attack her frail organism, and is an anchor of hope alike to delicate girls and suffering women; contains no deleterious drugs. A guarantee on the bottle-wrappers, refunding the price in case of failure. Of druggists, $1.00.

The Rich Man's Son.

The rich man's son inherits lands, and piles of brick and stones and gold. And he inherits soft white hands. And tender flesh that fears the cold. Like soft hands, and tender flesh, special tendencies to Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, and Stomach and Liver troubles; but there is a remedy, known as the "Golden Medical Discovery," which overcomes these diseases, and cuts off all tendencies toward a fatal result. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, has put this remedy within the reach of all, so that even the poor as well as the rich, can obtain it. It is worth more to you than "piles of brick and stone and gold." Ask your druggist for it. It's guaranteed to benefit or cure, in every case, or money paid for it will be refunded.

The Never Failing Remedy.

Those who continue to suffer with contagious blood disease, after having gone through the usual course of treatment, have one consolation: They can fall back on the never-failing specific, S. S. S. Sometimes they suffer from the disease itself, and sometimes from the effects of the treatment itself, especially if mercury and other mineral poisons have been employed. In either case they can find an infallible remedy in S. S. S. It would be better to take advantage of the remedy before undergoing other treatment, as thousands have done and are doing, but it is not everybody's foresight that is as good as his hindsight.
